

For Those Of You Not Familiar With Our Little Bit Of Paradise ...Read on

Isn't it true, when it's either cold and gray or hotter than blazes we daydream about a get-away-cottage where we go to anytime and just hang out with friends and neighbors for a week or two or more. Especially if we don't have the usual hassles of secondary ownership for example; maintenance, lawns, taxes, frozen pipes, or plumbing issues and on and on. Wouldn't it be a lot better without these headaches especially when you could be on the ocean, within walking distance to almost any kind of restaurant possible from pizza to posh. Where kids can play and make friends with other kids and mom and dad have the choice of the ocean, a warm pool, or a refreshingly cooler pool. Plus, relaxing in the TIKI hut, sounds like paradise doesn't it and Emerald Seas is just that, with old Florida prices, with kitchens, no extra parking costs, public, on premise, washing facilities plus almost every apartment has an ocean view that includes a simply gorgeous sunrise.
